

The 2011 Course session has completed. The next occurrence of the Advanced National Fire Danger Rating System will be in February of 2013. Nominations for that session will be due by November 1, 2012 through your training organization to the Geographic Area Training Representatives.